

Universal Precautions

Federal and State legislation has been adopted by Federal and State agencies to help protect employees against transmission of communicable disease.

All employees of the Lowell Public Library will utilize universal precautions in handling bodily fluids. It is the responsibility of the administration to train employees in proper procedure.