

Announcing
A Public Forum

The Lowell Public Library Board of Trustees would like to invite community residents, businesses and organizations interested in libraries, to participate in a public forum to be held in the Library Program Room on Wednesday, April 15, at 6:30 PM.

The focus of the forum will center on the library's 3-5 year planning efforts. The Library Board would like to hear from the public about what they like about their library, what they would like more of and what the library might be doing to further provide for the needs of the community.

Take part in the future planning of the library. The Lowell Friends of the Library will host the informal gathering. Refreshments will be served.

The Library Board would also like you to take time to fill out the enclosed survey and return it to the library. The survey was created by the Library's Long-Range Planning Committee made up of community residents, business leaders and members of local organizations. The survey asks you to rate services the library currently offers and what you would like your library to offer in the future.
