LARGE PRINT BOOKS

The library has a collection of large-print books available for those readers who prefer a larger than average type. Most of these books are complete and unabridged, and contain pictures and illustrations just as the conventional books.

Fiction, non-fiction, romance, westerns, science-fiction, mysteries, and biographies are all available for a two week loan period. Ask at the main desk for more details.

ANNUAL BOOK FAIR

The Lowell Public Library will once again be having the Annual Book Fair. Patrons are invited to visit the library from Thursday, June 9 thru Saturday, June 11 during regular library hours and browse for new books, bookmarks, stickers, and many more "book things". Part of the proceeds will go to the Lowell library for new book purchases.

Summer Reading

"SUMMER OF CHAMPIONS"

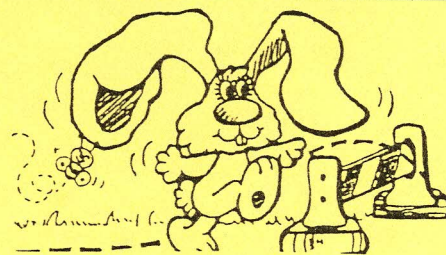

Children are invited to join the summer reading club of the Lowell Public Library. This years theme is "Summer of Champions", and promises to be fun-filled and exciting as children read books, attend movies, and special "kid" programs.

Summer reading club begins Monday, June 6, and children may begin reading and recording titles after that date. A special booklet for each participant will be kept at the main desk of the library. Pre-schoolers may have books read to them to be part of the summer reading club.

Certificates will be awarded at a party on August 3 featuring "Snickers" the clown.

Something new: Each week a drawing will be held. Any child checking out a book that week is eligible for a prize.

Programs each Monday and movies each Wednesday will keep the kids busy on those hot, lazy days of summer.
