SCARY ADVENTURES AWAIT SUMMER READING CLUB MEMBERS JUNE 6-AUGUST 4

What's this? A buzzard in the library? Yes, he's been spotted hanging over the Children's Room waiting, but waiting for what...or whom?

He is not alone. Other scary "things" will be there to greet the new members of the "Scare Up A Good Book" Summer Reading Club Program beginning Monday, June 6, at the Lowell Public Library and its Shelby and Schneider Branches.

There's a lot of fun and adventure in store for members, including craft programs, videos, and a book walk. Special events are planned to delight and amuse club members.

At the end of the Reading Club Program, members can cut loose on the grounds of the library for a fun-filled carnival and receive their booklet filled with the names of all the books they have read during the summer program.

Friends of the Library will sponsor a Children's Paperback Booksale the first two weeks of Summer Reading Club to help youngsters build their home libraries with books.

IT WAS SPECTACULAR

It was a wonderful place to be...where reality and imagination came together on a vast canvas of art, providing a glimpse into the world of children. The event was the 14th Annual Student Art Exhibit (May 16-21) sponsored by the Friends of the Library. The place was the Children's Room where hundreds of pieces of art created by the talented young students (grades K-5) of Three Creeks, Oak Hill, St. Edward's and Lowell Baptist Elementary Schools were on display for the viewing pleasure of library patrons and staff.

The Friends would like to thank these young artists and their teachers for sharing so many creative expressions of art for others to enjoy.

FRIENDS TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Friends of the Library will be held on Wednesday, June 15 at 7:00 PM.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

YEAR OF THE FAMILY

The United Nations has proclaimed 1994 as the International Year of the Family.

Raising children today, in a vastly changing world, comes with a set of problems not experienced in earlier times. Children didn't have as many choices then... there were no personal computers, cable TV or arcade games to entertain youngsters.

One of the best places for parent and child to spend time together is at the library. There a child has thousands of books to choose from. Sharing reading time together at home, whether a parent reads to their child or listens as the child relates what he/she has read, can be a very special time for family sharing.

Library programs such as Summer Reading Program are also excellent ways for a parent to provide an entertaining way for a child to learn and share their experiences with their families.

A special section of Parenting Books is located at the southeast corner of the Children's Room. Raising Kids In A Changing World, by Anna Quindlen, is one of many enlightening and entertaining source books available on child rearing.

Excellent books featured in the Friends of the Library Children's Paperback Booksale (June 6-18) emphasize the importance of the family unit, with stories for children, not only about other families and family relationships, but also about themselves and their own families. Selections include, Love You Forever, Jake's Journal, Leaves Of October, When I Am Old With You, and Will The Real Me Please Stand Up? Paperback book prices range from $1.50 to $5.00. Your child will enjoy choosing from these and other wonderful stories to add to their home library.
